

Does your radio equipment need an overhaul? Hire one of our Technical Engineers for the day!

Main Benefits:

Have the experience and knowledge of one of our Technical Engineers on site for one whole day - to assist with all your radio needs!

Whether you want them to look at equipment that isn't working, or carry out general tests and checks across your site, our engineers are there for the whole day to do whatever you require, including:

- General repairs* and replacement of parts
- Testing of radios and batteries
- Site coverage checks
- User training for any of your radios
- Anything else you require help with

Keep all your equipment - we'll come to you

Rather than sending all your equipment to us to be serviced, and being without your radios, all of your equipment can stay on site whilst we complete our tests and checks.*

£495^{+VAT}
one off cost

Includes:

General repairs and replacement of parts

Testing of radios and batteries

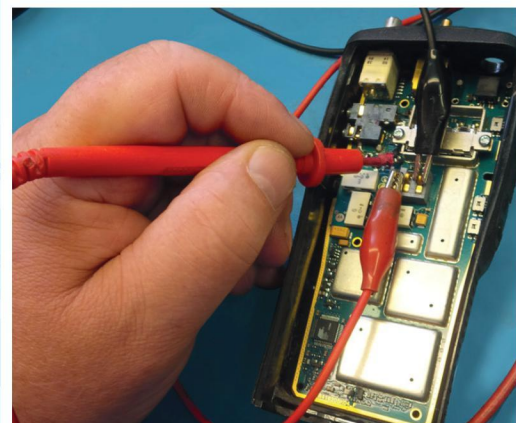

Coverage Check

User Training

Anything else you require help with!

*Some equipment may still need to be taken off site to repair
